Mission Accomplished? Hardly. The new health reform law sets in motion sweeping changes to the nation's health care system, and providers and payers will have to rise to meet the challenge.

Herb K. Schultz is the Regional Director of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, Region IX. From 2006-2010, he served as Senior Advisor to Governor Arnold Schwarzenegger on issues including both Federal and State health care reform. As Director of the California Recovery Task Force, he was responsible for the oversight and implementation of the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act. Mr. Schultz has a Masters Degree in Public Policy from Georgetown University.

E. Richard Brown, PhD, is the director of the UCLA Center for Health Policy Research and a professor in UCLA's School of Public Health. Brown's research and publications focus on health insurance coverage, the lack of coverage and the effects on access of public policies and economic and market conditions. His work has been used by legislative leaders and advocates in crafting health care legislation, policies and programs. He received his PhD in sociology of education from the University of California, Berkeley.
